PARNELL AND PATRIOTISM.

Unexampled Devotion of Irish Americans to their Native Land.

AMERICANS BACK TO IRELAND.

Influential Americans to Return to Erin to Work for Irish Nationality at the Elections.

The Irish Heart in America.
NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—A large meeting of gentlemen who have been prominent in Irish National League matters in this city and Brooklyn, was held this afternoon at the office of J. P. Rooney, No. 143 Broadway, for the purpose of taking into consideration the best and most effective means of assisting Parnell in the coming elections for members of parliament.

John C. McGuire, of Brooklyn, was elected chairman, and General W. Kirwin secretary. Resolutions were adopted, setting forth that the general election about to take place to the members of the English parliament offers to the people of Ireland an opportunity to prove their loyalty and devotion to Irish nationality, and that it is the duty of every Irishman to take advantage of this opportunity. The resolutions further asserted that the leadership of Parnell and his associates in the struggle for the oppression and depopulation of Ireland through the system of landlordism; give warning to every Irishman that unless he depopulated Ireland to death, that over ten millions of his fellow Irishmen on this continent will be left to starve and die with strong arms and willing hearts to render such assistance as may be needed by their brothers in Ireland to accomplish this end. They concluded as follows:—Resolved, That we send fifty of the representative men of our race in the United States to assist Hon. Charles Stewart Parnell in his campaign in the hustings, for the purpose of electing the candidates selected and approved of by that heroic and true Irish leader.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—Ex-Congressman John P. Finerty being asked to-night whether he would accept the invitation tendered him to visit England and Ireland in connection with the Parnell party during the coming campaign, said that he had received no information that any such scheme was on foot. Without giving any reason for refusal, Mr. Finerty said that he should probably not be one of the proposed party.

Sullivan, who is a well-known and popular speaker, addressed the assembly in a most eloquent and stirring manner. He spoke in English, and his words were interpreted into Irish by a number of men who were present. Sullivan said that he was proud to be the guest of the Irish people in America, and that he was sure that they would all be united in their support of Parnell and his party. He said that he was sure that they would all be united in their support of Parnell and his party.

Alleged New Light.
CHICAGO, Oct. 5.—Special from Green River says: Some testimony of a startling character, given to the grand jury to-day, is calculated to throw new light on transactions at Rock Springs during the recent riot there. The Rev. Timothy Thirway, Congregational minister, who resided at Rock Springs with his family during the riot, made a sworn statement showing that the Chinese set fire to their own houses in order to prevent the women from burning them of their money, which was buried in the ground underneath their dwellings. Subsequent events have shown this to be the case, for as soon as the Chinamen returned to Rock Springs they commenced excavating under the ruins and in one instance recovered over $6,000.

The Elections in France.
PARIS, Oct. 5.—The results of the elections through France yesterday, for members of the chamber of deputies, "so far as officially" reported up to noon to-day, have created a great surprise, and changed many expectations of the cabinet and their colleagues. The conservatives on the other hand are well with enthusiasm over the fact that they succeeded in polling a much larger vote than the most sanguine anticipated, making changes in the cabinet required. Return show that the conservatives won sixty seats in 17 of the 87 departments, and have also beaten five candidates and made a second ballot necessary to decide the fate of two others. The results of the elections in Lille, Marseilles and Paris has not yet been declared.

The Cholera.
ROME, Oct. 5.—There are 122 new cases of cholera in 24 hours in this disease reported in Palermo, yesterday.

The Monetary Alabama Commission—Eternal Show of Better Times—Increasing Customs Duties, Etc.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—The treasury department is receiving an increased demand for small currency, which is regarded by the officials of that department as a sign of a revival of the business of the country. The commissioner of customs has instructed the customs officers to make a return at the close of each quarter of all the unclaimed merchandise in the public store, bonded warehouse or customs house. No such returns appear in the accounts of collectors as now rendered.

An Embarrassing Spouse.
CHICAGO, Oct. 5.—[Special to the Bee.]—John C. White, in former years a prominent citizen of Chicago, but now a resident of Rio Janeiro, Brazil, in his capacity of secretary of the legation for the United States government, is the principal defendant in a suit begun to-day in the superior court by his wife, Susie C. A. White. This lady is residing in Bassett, Neb., and is a daughter of the late Thomas Ashley, of Westfield, Mass. The parties were married in New York October 12, 1876, and she says that she then was possessed in her own right of about $60,000 derived from legacies. She further states that she lived with her husband and on during trip to Europe, brief stays in this country, and also in the capital of Brazil, but she has been separated from him for the past twelve months, owing to his alleged ill treatment of her. No specific facts of cruelty are cited. Some years ago, she claims, her husband induced her to invest her funds with the investment of some of her funds. Yielding to his glowing description of the profitable nature of the purchase of real estate on the north side of Chicago, she says she gave him $10,000 for that purpose, and he assured her, she asserts, that the value of this land would double very shortly, he being well acquainted in Chicago. She says that she believed her husband, and also that he had bought the land in her own name, as well as some alleged government land—800 acres to buy which, she claims, she gave him $2,000, and a series of additional smaller sums afterward.

The Caper of Three Rich Young Men—A Sensational Divorce Case—In Chicago—Miscellaneous.

Shearing an Adventurer.
CHICAGO, Oct. 5.—[Special to the Bee.]—Saturday afternoon John A. Lynch, James D. Lynch and Thomas Lynch, the three sons of Thomas Lynch, the rich distiller, were arrested at the instance of Lena Banz, a woman living at 321 Wells street. The evening before these young men called at her house, and forcing entrance, cut off her long blonde hair. Various and conflicting reports have appeared in the papers, but the real facts in the case were given to the Bee representative this morning by one of the sons. Said he:—

"We have known for some time that father was paying considerable attention to this woman. It annoyed us greatly, not for silly reason advanced that we feared a step-mother, and in consequence a smaller division of the estate, but because she is a divorced woman and a woman of no standing in society. We continued to suffer this annoyance, recognizing father's perfect right to choose his own companion and to enjoy her society as he pleased without a word of interference from us until, when the other day, we received a letter written as we felt satisfied the instigation of the woman, in which it was intimated that she had written possessed a knowledge of facts which, if made public, would smirch the fame and good name of our mother, now dead, and that this stuff would be disclosed if we did not encourage our father's attentions to her. That letter of course made us very angry, and we determined at once to see this woman. We were placed in a delicate position, and it was agreed that the worst we could do was to cut off her hair, as a reminder of our determination not to have our mother's name carelessly handled. It is a matter of deep and sincere regret that two use were forced to take any steps in this unpleasant affair but mother idolized us boys, and we in turn loved her, and would not defend her name against the world."

James D. Lynch is widely known and well received in the best social circles of Chicago. In his manner and bearing he is polished to a marked degree, and his accomplishments are many and varied. He has good standing in business circles. J. A. Lynch is engaged in the commission business on South Water street, and has been very successful. Thomas Lynch, Jr., is a gentleman of leisure. Mrs. Banz is a divorced woman. She lives in the lower part of a two-story brick house that is said in need of repair, at No. 321 Wells street. When visited this morning she refused to open her door, but shouted her remarks through it. As near as could be learned, she said: "Wait till Thursday afternoon when the case comes up before Justice Kersten, and you will see the hand I hold."

An Equine Obituary.
LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 5.—W. H. Wilson's great trotting stallion, Indianapolis, died at Cythiana this afternoon. The stallion was shipped from Peoria, and by mistake was taken to Lexington on Saturday night, arriving here on a Saturday. He was led to Cythiana, a distance of twenty-six miles. Exposure brought on inflammation and he died this afternoon.

An Instructive Contrast.
The highly commercial disadvantages attending the use of the telegraph, whose people are ruled by a few corporation influences, is well shown by the Philadelphia Record in an article which we publish below. While railroad competition does not always compete fairly in a new country, combinations rarely combine for any length of time to the detriment of powerful companies, able to fire the competition in any line in which they refuse to treat them fairly. In cities especially, in a multitude of railway lines under different management there is safety.

The Philadelphia Record, trying to convince its readers of the necessity of more adequate railway facilities in securing the trade of the large area of country naturally tributary to that city, holds up Chicago as a model worthy of imitation and Philadelphia as an awful example of the policy which should be avoided. Although Philadelphia has an excellent natural advantages for manufacturing, and is centrally and advantageously located for foreign, coastwise and interior trade she finds herself crippled and hemmed in by reason of insufficient lines of communication north, west, south and eastward. She has two trunk lines of railway, which own or control all the shorter lines or canals with which they interline or compete. Philadelphia is a city of the future, and it is largely due to the fact that she has no adequate railway facilities that she is unable to compete with other cities. She is a city of the future, and it is largely due to the fact that she has no adequate railway facilities that she is unable to compete with other cities.

Prayers Against the Plague.
MONTREAL, Oct. 5.—[Special to the Bee.]—Reference was made to the small-pox epidemic in several of the Catholic churches of this city yesterday. Priests earnestly treated the people to submit to the counsels of the medical authorities and vaccinate at once. At St. James church Father Philibert delivered a forcible address. He said that although he had attended hundreds of small-pox patients during the last fourteen years, he had never contracted the disease. He believed it was owing to his having been vaccinated. The address made a great impression on the congregation, which is the aristocratic French congregation of the city. Hundreds expressed their intention of getting vaccinated at once, and a heavy rain storm prevented an out door procession of the Catholic congregations to the intersection of the Virgin Mary to stay the progress of the epidemic. The procession took place, however, inside the French parish church on Notre Dame street which was crowded, fully 1,000 people being present. A statue of the Virgin, which was carried in the procession, is a very old relic belonging to the seminary of St. Sulpice, and was brought from France early in the eighteenth century, and has been used for one hundred and fifty years in times of special returning of thanks for services rendered.

STOLEN ART TREASURES.

Boston, Oct. 5.—[Special to the Bee.]—Some time last night, burglars entered the house of Fred L. Ames at North East and stole from his art gallery four of his most valuable paintings. One was the work of Meyer Von Bremer; another by J. F. Millet; the third by Theodore Rousseau and the fourth by Zeyher. They were all removed from their frames. The pictures are well known to artists and buyers, and it would be useless to try and dispose of them in the country. It is thought they will be carried to Europe and sold at some out of the way place. Mr. Ames went to New York Sunday night and he is the only one who can give any information as to their history and real value.
